ITALY INAUGURATES NEW REGIME IN ETHIOPIA

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—Twenty years ago we were told that we were going to war to make the world safe for democracy.

Today in France, on whose soil most of the war was waged, the people are not concerned with democracy, but are confronted with a choice between fascism and communism. The French elections have given the "left" a very great lead.

This has obviously disturbed those who believe in private property. There has been a rush to transfer funds to other countries. First choice of French investors is for British and Dutch securities.

We can all remember a time when foreigners in a financial crisis turned to American securities. But that was in the days before the New Deal had committed the United States to the more abundant life based on an economy of scarcity.

PA NEW OBSERVES

South Mercer street, Tuesday afternoon was the parking place for two cars bearing attractive plates. One of the vehicles bore a South Carolina state plate composed of background and yellow numerals. The date, April 30-36, was located on top of the plate; the other car had plates from Illinois, black background and white figures.

Traffic on the corner of North street and North Mill street was held up for some time Tuesday afternoon, when the battery in a large truck failed to function. New Superintendent of Traffic John Haven, (former Chief of Police) who happened on the scene, directed traffic until the operator secured a new battery.

Records today revealed the fact that New Castle 37 years ago had a police chief younger than the newly appointed police head, Ralph A. Criswell. The younger man was J. Lee McFate, now a partner in the firm of McFate & Lockhart, who took the job at the age of 27 upon the appointment of Mayor Charles Warnock. He became the chief on April 1, 1899, over 37 years ago. After his service as chief for three years he was named as county detective and served for several years. Criswell, the new chief, is 33.

It will not be long now until Lawrence County's apple blossom time will be in full progress. Trees are beginning to show the blossoms.

Evidently some persons believe in getting in line early. In one Lawrence County location on Tuesday, PA News noted a sign revealing that fireworks are to be sold.

One new detour is noted in the local district in the Detour Bulletin issued by the department of highways for the period ending May 14. This is between Clarksville and Greenville in Mercer county, and is but three miles in extent. Construction work is being done on route 58 between Mercer and Greenville, also, but traffic is being maintained. The current bulletin shows that little headway is being made in repairing the bridges which were washed out by the flood this spring.

AFRICAN WAR IS PRACTICALLY AT END

Italy To Turn Attention To Developing "Peace And Prosperity" Of Country

(International News Service)
ADDIS ABABA, May 6.—With war ended and Ethiopia in his grasp, Marshal Pietro Badoglio, whose troops entered this riot-torn capital to end the independence of the last remaining African empire, today pledged Italy to "promote the peace and prosperity" of the vanquished.

In a speech to news correspondents from the porch of the Italian legation, which is serving as his military headquarters, Badoglio, commander of the Italian Northern army which occupied Addis Ababa yesterday, proclaimed:

"The Negus, in the face of continued defeat, was obliged to flee his capital.

Ordered to Reach Addis Ababa

"Following the tracks of his retreat, you have experienced the hardships which were necessary to arrive here and to see what tenacity and efforts we Italians are capable of.

Premier Mussolini told me to reach Addis Ababa. I have done so because I had the high honor to command Italian officers and men.

"You have seen what a warm reception the people along the road have given us. They feel themselves liberated from a very heavy yoke.

"Now begins for us our new work as arduous as the work which has just been won—the work of promoting the peace and prosperity of the people whom we are to civilize."

Connecticut Republicans In Session To Name Delegates To G. O. P. Convention

(International News Service)
HARTFORD, Conn., May 6.—Connecticut Republicans assembled in convention here today to elect delegates to the national Republican convention at Cleveland next month.

Election of delegates at large, to be followed by conventions of the five congressional districts to select two delegates each, was the only business before the 600 party leaders. The delegation is to go to Cleveland unpledged and uninstructed.

Keynoting the convention, former U. S. Senator Hiram Bingham declared:

"We want a man for president like Calvin Coolidge, of whom it was said:

"No man has ever known Calvin Coolidge to go back on his word."

He urged that the voters exercise "Yankee common sense" rather than be guided "by a silver-tongued radio voice, a heart-warming, fire-lifting smiles."

Stupendous Sum Would Be Required For Flood Control

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 6.—Shattering the hopes and beliefs of business and civic leaders throughout western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio, Major W. D. Styer, head of the United States army engineers here, today asserted that the present system of proposed dams and reservoirs for flood control in this district would only diminish but not entirely eliminate the danger of future "great floods".

Speaking with International News Service in a farewell interview before leaving for his new post in Panama on May 10, Styer asserted that elimination of 46-foot floods would require a tremendous program of many huge dams and smaller reservoirs. Emphasizing his statement, Styer said:

Unthinkable Sums Needed.

New Dirigible To Begin Trip To U.S.

(International News Service)
FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 6.—The new giant dirigible Von Hindenburg, with 49 passengers and a huge load of mail, was set today to take off on its first trip across the north Atlantic to Lakehurst, N. J.

Altogether the Von Hindenburg will have more than 100 persons on board when she rises, probably between 10 p. m. and midnight (between 4 and 6 p. m. E. D. T.).

The start has been postponed until tonight to permit special airplanes to reach here with last-minute mail for America.

For the first time in history, mass will be celebrated in the clouds during the Von Hindenburg's voyage over the ocean. Never before is mass known to have been celebrated in the air.

By special permission of Pope Pius, Rev. Father Paul Schulte, famous "flying priest," will say mass in the zeppelin's passenger salon while it soars across the Atlantic.

Mussolini Says Italy "Satisfied"

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 6.—Victor in her campaign against Ethiopia, Italy now is "satisfied," Premier Mussolini told Ward Price in an interview published by the London Daily Mail today.

Mussolini disclosed the next Italian move will be establishment of Italian authority throughout all Ethiopia, and said:

"First of all, Italy can now be numbered among the 'satisfied states'."

Italy, said Mussolini, has no desire for other colonial possessions of other nations in north Africa. And he added:

"Italy's task has been made easier by the flight of Emperor Haile Selassie, which has created a new and entirely unexpected set of conditions."

Destiny To Be Decided

County Veterans To Get $1,571,202 Bonus During June

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—The Treasury department plans to pour some million and a half dollars in bonus bonds into Lawrence county by the first of July.

According to present plans, the entire payment to Lawrence county vets should be made between June 15 and July 1. Under the law, the bonds are not payable until June 15.

Members of Congress are being informed that the giant administrative machine set up for payment is functioning so smoothly officials believe they will be able to make all the payments as soon as the law permits, June 15. They estimate it will require about two weeks for the distribution.

Although no exact figures are available, Representative Patman, foremost agitator for the bonus payment, estimated that Lawrence county veterans would receive $1,571,202. Other county quotas were placed at $2,408,096 for Beaver, $1,300,254 for Butler, and $1,603,319 for Mercer. Patman said his figures (Continued On Page Two)

Italian Victory Places Problems Before League

Meeting Monday Of Members Of Nation's League Will Be Epochal Session

FUTURE COURSE MOST UNCERTAIN

Action On Sanctions Is Awaited Eagerly—Lake Tsana Issue Is Serious

(International News Service)

A new crisis, forerunner of radical changes in European international relations, burst over the world today as Italy's legions resolutely set about to enforce Mussolini's edict that "Ethiopia is Italian!"

Everywhere two questions trembled on anxious lips: What form of government will the Duce set up over Ethiopia's 5,000,000? What will the League of Nations do at its council meeting Monday?

Washington gave the earliest indication that it would maintain the stand adopted in the case of Japan's Manchukuo: non-recognition of territory acquired by force.

Britain, leader in the sanctions war on Italy, was "bitterly humiliated," and the answers to a bombardment of angry questions in the house of commons reflected uncertainty on the part of the government. "Wait and see what the league does," was the effect of Premier Baldwin's and Foreign Secretary Eden's replies to demands that more sanctions be applied against Italy and that Italy be ostracized as an outlaw among nations.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 6.—Search for Burl Rogers, suspected bandit-killer, who escaped Sunday with two cellmates from jail at Lisbon, O., was intensified today by the offering of a $500 reward by the Columbiana county commissioners.

The action increased to $1,000 the price on suspects in the Christmas Day milk wagon holdup in which Clarence Dickey, 25, was shot to death and his brother Frank, 37, wounded. The county had offered $500 previously for the arrest and conviction of Clinton Daniels, 26, missing since the attack.

The spring time brings the flowers, a thing you surely know, just as the summer brings the heat and winter brings the snow. But spring time brings some other things, some weather wet and dry, but also it brings things to eat, among them rhubarb pie. I try to think of something which compares with that in taste, but words are futile, phrases too, and adjectives a waste. For when it set down steaming hot, prepared for me or you, it is tops in pies, at least in spring, the weather's eighty-two.

ITALY MAY ANNEX ETHIOPIA

End Of Sanctions To Be Demanded

Next Move Of Mussolini In Ethiopian Situation Awaited By World

ROME CELEBRATION BEING CONTINUED

By LINDESAY PARROTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent
ROME, May 6.—Formal proclamation of either a protectorate over all Ethiopia or complete annexation of the entire empire by Italy will be Premier Mussolini's next step in his east African campaign, it was expected in official circles today.
Demand for complete cessation of all League of Nations sanctions against Italy was also predicted.
It Duce's statement that "Ethiopia is Italy's" must mean entire cancellation of league action for Ethiopia, it was asserted.
The measures undertaken to support Ethiopia, it was argued, ceased to have any validity the moment Ethiopia ceased to exist as a national entity.

Sanctions Hit.
This view was reflected in inspired editorials in the Italian press. The newspaper Messaggero stated: "The defeat of the Negus lets down the whole sanctions front. Geneva must register the conclusion of the whole sanctionist siege."
The newspaper Popolo said: "With the end of the war also comes the end of the conflict between Italy and the league."
"League action undertaken in favor of one of its members no longer is of any purpose, since Ethiopia no longer is an autonomous state, functioning as a league member."
Celebrations Continue.
Victory celebrations continued to pack the streets of Rome today, while parades of students and school children, waving flags and singing patriotic songs, marched through the main avenues.

Premier Mussolini made a second victory appearance at his balcony this morning when thousands of school children, shouting for him, poured into the Piazza Venezia.
Police were surprised and unable to clear the square, but after a few minutes Il Duce appeared. As he raised his hand in a Roman salute, the children yelled:
"Hurrah for Addis Ababa!"

Tsana, in northwestern Ethiopia, International News Service was told by a high authority today.

Sooner or later, Britain will ask Il Duce for a direct answer to the question on the minds of most Britons today: "What about Lake Tsana?" the lake, source of the Blue Nile and vital to Egypt's irrigation system, now is surrounded by Italian troops.

England Against War
London, May 6.—Britain's horror of war, not fear that Italy could triumph over the empire's fighting ships and men, prevented military sanctions against Italy, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told a packed house of commons today as he openly admitted the "failure of the League of Nations."

Only the closing of the Suez Canal could have stopped Italy's African campaign, he said, "and that sanction would inevitably lead to war."

In a surprisingly firm reply to opposition attacks, Eden nevertheless hinted the League of Nations is not yet through with Italy.

"The league must go on," he thundered, although, with the implication that Britain was abandoning its leadership in the economic and financial war on Italy, he added: "whatever action may be taken by the league council at Geneva Monday must be collective."

U. S. May Not Recognize
Washington, May 6.—A strong possibility existed today that the United States government will refuse to recognize any puppet regime which Italy's victorious army of conquest establishes in Ethiopia.

Pending indications as to what sort of government the Italians intend to establish in Addis Ababa, the state department refrained from taking any immediate stand.

However, indications were that Secretary of State Cordell Hull would adhere to the policy of non-recognition of territory acquired by force.

Enunciated by former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson in 1932, this policy has been accepted and followed by the Roosevelt administration.

ITALIAN TROOPS NOW OCCUPYING ALL ADDIS ABABA

Rioting Ceases
The rioting which had terrified the city four days, resulting in death for at least 10 Europeans and uncounted Ethiopians, and driving thousands to foreign legations for refuge, ceased as the Italian troops entered the city.

The population—at least, what part of it was left here following the flight of thousands to the south and the wild days and nights of rioting—stood in awed silence as the Italian procession marched stiffly through the main streets.

First came the mechanized columns carrying the Alpine battalions and other battalions of the famed Bersaglieri.

Engineers and battalions of native Askari warriors followed on foot. As the long procession wound its way over the rough roads leading into the city, it passed near the British legation, heavily guarded by grim-looking Sikhs, Britain's famed Indian troops whose detachments at Addis Ababa performed valorously in aiding American and other foreigners during the terrorism following Emperor Haile Selassie's flight.

Responds With Salute.
Standing in front of the legation's high walls and barred wire entanglements, the Sikhs presented arms to Marshal Badoglio, who responded with a courtly salute.

Following the marshal came seven batteries of artillery and several squadrons of native African cavalry. That the occupation of the capital had been carefully planned in advance was evident from the manner in which the commander of each battalion led his troops to a pre-ordained section of the city without hesitation.

Following the occupation came an impressive ceremony when the Italian tri-color, proclaiming Italy's rule of Ethiopia, was hoisted over the capital.

At the point where Addis Ababa's two main streets cross in the center of the town, a flagstaff was set up in the presence of Marshal Badoglio and his chiefs of staff.

Run Up Italian Flag
The Italian flag was run up while the marshal stood rigidly at salute and the national anthem of Italy blared forth.

Badoglio when established his headquarters at the legation where the Italian radio station was immediately set up and placed in operation. Wireless communication with Rome got underway within an hour of entry of the troops into the capital.

The Italian troops, 25,000 strong, occupied strategic points to preserve order, and, confronted with this awesome display of military power, the panic-stricken rioters kept under cover.

A detachment of Italian troops was sent to guard the American legation, reoccupied after being evacuated temporarily by United States minister Cornelius Van H. Engert and his wife, staff and aides.

Measures also were taken for protection of other foreign legations.

Take Over Rule
Addis Ababa, May 6.—Premier Benito Mussolini's powerfully armed, mechanized fascist legions, 25,000 strong in the newly won capital, took over the rule of all Ethiopia today.

Almost without pausing from their historic march here from the north, climaxed yesterday with raising of the Italian tri-color over Addis Ababa, the Italians plunged into the organization of a new regime in Ethiopia, its exact character for the moment vague.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio, victor-

ous Italian commander, appointed Major Bottai, former governor of Rome, to the position of civil governor of Addis Ababa, establishing a local civil administration under at least temporary military supervision.

Simultaneously Marshal Badoglio planned a program for gradual radiation of military control from Addis Ababa to the surrounding country. With the nearest armed Ethiopian force many miles from the capital and with no force known to exist willing to resist the Italians, Marshal Badoglio aimed at restoring order throughout the country.

Look For Little Trouble
The Italians believed that any tribes which have not already voluntarily submitted to the fascist armies would do so forthwith.

General Rodolfo Graziani, commanding the Italian forces coming up from Italian Somaliland, pushed on toward the Addis Ababa Djibouti railway and reached a point today about 40 miles from Jijiga, former main base of Ethiopia's southern army.

Gen. Graziani was reported meeting very little resistance. The Ethiopian army which had been opposing him, under Ras Nasibu and the Turkish leader General Wehbi Fasha, was in full flight, marking the end of all Ethiopian resistance to Italy's advance.

The bulk of Marshal Badoglio's mechanized column will remain in Addis Ababa to undertake the tremendous amount of organizing work necessary to consolidate the Italian regime.

Fifteen hundred motor trucks were enroute here from the north with supplies.

leaving untold death and destruction in its wake, would require almost unthinkable amounts of money. The inauguration of such a plan is improbable because of the expense involved.

In expanding his original statement, Styer also shattered popular belief concerning damage-wreaking floods. It was the general opinion that "great" floods such as the flood of 1907 and the St. Patrick's Day inundation were the chief source of destruction and the greatest concern of engineers in presenting a proposal for future river control.

It isn't true that New Dealers have no use for Mr. Hearst. They are using him to make Mr. Landon squirm.

Council To Meet Again On Friday

When city council adjourned Monday they decided to meet Friday instead of Thursday. Sometime ago council designated councilman meetings for Monday and Thursday. However, due to legislation which required more time to draft, it was agreed Monday to adjourn until Friday.

Still, if suffering and hard times make people repent and be good we must be getting along pretty well.

Landon Leads Borah.
Pierre, S. D., May 6.—Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas today held a gradually growing lead over Senator William E. Borah of Idaho for South Dakota's eight delegates to the Republican national convention as returns from yesterday's primary battles were received from the state's scattered prairie precincts.

Landon's name did not appear on the Republican primary ballot, but delegates listed as uninstructed were definitely pledged to the Kansas chief executive.

Unofficial returns from 674 of the state's 1955 precincts gave: Uninstructed delegates (Landon) 18,021, Borah 15,227.

President Roosevelt was unopposed for the state's eight delegates to the Democratic convention.

Bankhead Wins.
Birmingham, Ala., May 6.—As weary election clerks resumed tallying the results of Alabama's primary election early today their findings only served to accentuate the overwhelming victory of Senator John H. Bankhead over Henry L. Anderson, prominent Birmingham attorney, in the fight for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. senate.

Unofficial returns early today gave Bankhead 53,671 votes, Anderson 13,211. Nomination is tantamount to election.

JUNIOR B. P. W. PLANS MOTHERS' DAY EVENT

An especially large attendance marked the dinner meeting held Tuesday evening at a prominent tavern, by members of the Junior Business and Professional Women's club, with Mary Scott and Helen Jameson as special guests. Miss Amelia Ruby was chairman in charge of the program which featured later.

A delectable menu was served at the pleasant tables by candle light, and appointments of green and yellow prevailed in all details. Following the group held a business discussion in an adjoining room when plans were rounded out for their annual Mother's Day breakfast event to take place Sunday morning, May 10, in the Castleton private dining room.

On May 19, the election of officers, and the appointing of delegates to the convention to be held soon, will feature their meeting. A short executive board meeting will follow this session. Attention was also given to their annual picnic plans, to take place on June 2 at the McClelland cottage. Committees will be announced later.

The Junior B. P. W. girls have been faithfully promoting one of their specific projects, and that is instructing youngsters of the Margaret Henry Home in various types of handicraft, one evening each week. On May 1, Janet Sturdy, Doris Updegraph and Edith Cleaveland went to the institution and assisted the kiddies in making clever scrap books. On this Friday, May 8, Carrie Wharton, Lucille Usselson, Harriet Truby and Dorothy Boyles will compose the committee to further this work; on May 15, Mary Felton, Jane Steen and Laura Ramsey will be in charge; on May 22, Harriet Owens, Jane Steen and Catherine Anderson will assist at the home and on June 5, Jean Glenn, Harriet Owens and Marjorie Powell will continue with the instruction work.

The balance of the evening was given over to an especially interesting and informative talk by Miss Amelia Ruby, research chairman of the club, who had charge of the program. She gave an excellent talk on the "Life of Queen Mary of England and Lady Astor" that held the close attention of the entire group. She went into detail on their personal life, their personalities and manner of living that was fascinating.

MRS. REBECCA MARTIN HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Rebecca Jane Martin, of Park avenue, who is one of New Castle's beloved and prominent residents, was honored with many lovely gifts, flowers, greeting cards and congratulations on Tuesday, May 5, in celebration of her birthday.

Learning that yesterday was her birthday, co-members of the United Workers class of the First Baptist church, of which Mrs. Martin has long been an active leader, met at the home of Mrs. Harvey Martin, on Park avenue, and then instead of staying there for luncheon as had been previously planned they "wended their way further down the street to the John Martin's where they completely surprised the honoree who was just ready to go to the other home.

Two special guests were present in the group, D. S. Williams, the teacher of the class and Miss Elizabeth Hay, a missionary who has been located in northeast India for the past seven years, and is now home on furlough. A delicious luncheon was enjoyed, one of the features of which was a large birthday cake with greetings and the inscription "Mother" in colored icing on the top.

Supervising the serving were Mrs. Martin's daughter, Mrs. F. L. Kelly, together with a committee composed of Mrs. John Burnside, Mrs. Fred Howland, and Mrs. Harvey Martin. Mrs. Nathan Joseph had charge of an entertaining program in the afternoon. The guest speaker was Miss Hay, who related interesting experiences in the far-off country and described her work. Miss Hay was introduced by Mrs. Wm. Hockenberry, president, who a little later, on behalf of the class, also presented Mrs. Martin with a beautiful potted plant. There were several short talks by Mrs. W. W. Williams, Mrs. C. H. Heaton and D. S. Williams.

Everybody had a most delightful time which will long linger in the memories of the guests, as well as being a notable occasion for the honoree, who in spite of her advanced years is still active and has a record of not having missed one Sunday from church in the past six years. A remarkable record in view of the fact also, that Mrs. Martin suffered a fall sometime ago, and has not fully recovered yet from its effects.

Junior Reading circle met at the home of Margaret Stewart on Garfield avenue, Tuesday evening, an election of officers taking place with the following results: Elizabeth Dietterle, president; Edith Cleaveland, vice president; Mildred Miller, recording secretary; Mildred Owen, corresponding secretary; Fern Cook, treasurer.

Plans for the June meeting were discussed and it was decided to make this in the form of a hike with Edith Cleaveland completing details. A sum of money was voted towards campships of the Y. W. C. A. and Girl Scouts.

The program consisted of a splendid paper on "Modern Musical Trend" by Edna Mae Sheaffer which was most appropriate in that this is National Music Week. Roll call was answered by naming favorite pieces of music.

One of a flock of Rhode Island Red hens owned by Mrs. Percy Springay is the cause of all the mystery—it has been laying double-yolked eggs of tremendous proportions for more than four months without having its identity discovered.

Attempts to identify the fowldom heroine have proved in vain. Mrs. Springay said, because all of the hens look alike, eat alike and act alike. The hens are all of ordinary stock.

Episcopal Church Women Convening

Woman's Auxiliary, Diocese Of Erie, Having 25th Annual Meeting Here Today

DINNER LAST NIGHT IS OPENING FEATURE

A silver anniversary dinner at The Castleton Tuesday evening opened the 25th annual meeting of Episcopal church women from the diocese of Erie. The devotional and business program of the meeting is being conducted today at Trinity church, with adjournment planned for three p. m.

Seventy-six members of the Women's Auxiliary from all parts of the diocese were present at the dinner, as were the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., bishop of Erie, and the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of Trinity parish.

The table of the diocesan president, Mrs. Albert Broadhurst, of Titusville, was decorated with lovely blue candles in crystal holders and an anniversary birthday cake which had been made by Mrs. T. F. Stryker. Other tables were enhanced by bowls of daffodils and candles.

Members who were present at the organization meeting in Franklin in 1911 were given special recognition last night. They were Mrs. H. W. McKee, Mrs. T. F. Stryker, of New Castle, and Miss Louise Bostwick of Franklin. Others who have been members continuously since the organization 25 years ago, and who were present last night, were Miss N. Moore of Erie, and Mrs. Terry of Meadville.

After-Dinner Speakers

Grace was asked by Bishop Ward. After dinner Mrs. Broadhurst introduced the following women: Mrs. D. C. Lindsey, president of the local branch of the women's auxiliary, who gave a welcome to the convention; Mrs. M. T. Forker of Meadville, Mrs. D. J. Bolton of Oil City, Miss Louise Bostwick of Franklin, Miss N. Moore of Erie, Mrs. T. F. Stryker of New Castle and Miss Katherine Yewens of Sharon.

A letter was read from Mrs. J. E. Reilly, a past president, and wife of a former rector of Trinity church, New Castle.

Closing prayers were offered by the Rev. Philip C. Pearson and benediction was pronounced by Bishop Ward.

A meeting of the executive board had preceded the dinner at three p. m.

Bishop Gives Address

This morning's program got under way at seven o'clock, with celebration of holy communion, followed at 9:30 by a second offering of the great sacrament and an address by the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward.

The business session opened promptly at 10:45, with Mrs. Broadhurst in the chair. Mrs. A. N. Warner gave the devotional secretary's report. Greetings were brought by the local rector, Rev. Pearson; minutes of the last annual meeting were presented and the president offered her annual message. Reports from diocesan officers and special committees, and presentation of plans for work and gifts for the coming year brought the morning session to a close.

This afternoon, after luncheon, the program calls for a report from the nominating committee for the filling of any vacant offices. This is not an election year. The Rev. Leonard W. Stryker, rector of St. John's church, Youngstown, O., will deliver an address.

The World At A Glance

communist armies in the northwestern provinces, where their program of drastic land reform and establishment of Soviets has gained wide popular support.

"Eighteen months ago the main body of the Chinese communists began a long trek from Kiangsi province, their old base, westward to Yunnan. In the spring of 1935 this army effected a juncture in western Szechuan with the second largest communist army in China. After several months' rest, the combined forces moved north and defeated the main government army blocking an advance into Kansu.

"In the autumn of 1935, after this victory, the communist armies again divided. One force, under Chu Teh, moved back into western Szechuan to consolidate a base in that area. The other force, under Mao Tse-tung, marched north into Kansu and Shensi, where it joined local communist armies. Early in 1936, a section of these forces crossed the frozen Yellow river into Shansi province, where it is still operating.

"Consolidation of this northwestern base would have two important effects. It would offer resistance to the spear-head of Japanese penetration into Inner Mongolia. Small communist raiding parties, seeking to cut the Peiping-Suiyuan railway along which the Japanese are advancing, have already been reported in Suiyuan province. In the second place, direct communist operations against the Japanese would afford additional stimulus to the anti-Japanese movement in north China, and thus exert further pressure on the Nanking regime.

"Mao Tse-tung, the political leader of the Chinese communist movement, has openly offered to join forces with Chiang Kai-shek in a united front against the Japanese invaders. Despite repeated threats, the leaders of the Kwantung army have so far failed to move Japanese troops against the communist concentration in the northwest. Instead, they have permitted Chiang Kai-shek to send six divisions of government troops into Shansi province to fight the communist forces.

"The Nanking government is now faced to opposition on three fronts: continued Japanese aggression, growing resistance to Japan from the Chinese people, and communist advances in the northwest. It cannot waver much longer between the clear alternatives raised by this situation. Chiang Kai-shek must either choose to become an outright tool of Japan, or mobilize the country for a united and determined struggle against the invader."

THE FRENCH MINISTER at Addis Ababa, sent there to sympathize with Ethiopia on behalf of the League of Nations, reports that native Ethiopian troops hired to defend his legation, have mutinied, injuring several by rifle fire.

India tall swarthy Sikhs, best fighting men in India, for whom it is a real pleasure to shoot down the Ethiopian bandits, now loose in Addis Ababa. England has learned to understand and deal with so-called "inferior races."

WITH THE Ethiopian war and ancient independent slave trading Ethiopia, with its rulers, alleged descendants of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, wiped off the slate, Europe, according to the International News correspondent, H. R. Knickerbocker, worries about a greater war with four hundred million Europeans drifting toward "the pit of destruction."

MR. KNICKERBOCKER says Europe has narrowly escaped war, five different times in twenty-two months.

When Italy laughed at the fifty-one against one League of Nations "gang-up," England depth bombs, planes. That was a narrow escape. Then Chancellor Hitler, selecting his moment, moved his soldiers to the edge of the Rhine, asking: "What are you going to do about it?"

Miraculously, nothing was done. Japan and Russia have been threatening and shooting at each other periodically. Europe dreads war, but the "watched pot" may boil over eventually.

THE LATEST worry disturbing England more than Russia is Japan's plan to build a gigantic fifty-five thousand ton battleship, with huge guns. Russia believes she could attend to anything like that, with heavy bombing planes and submarines that she has at Vladivostok.

FRANCE has a special worry, bigger than Hitler, and his trek to the Rhine, in the victory at the recent election of extreme radicals, now controlling the Chamber of Deputies by a strong majority.

As one result, the franc dropping, French conservatives think they would rather have English money than French.

It seems to be time for somebody to arise, able to run this world in such a way so as to let the average nation and individual get some normal sleep.

HERE SOME attention is concentrated on the most unusual and gruesome of recent American murders, called the "fishpond case" because the unfortunate victim, wife of a barber named Robert James, was found dead, face downward, in a fishpond.

The husband and his alleged accomplice, Charles Hope, accuse each other and make strange confessions. Poison was used, without success. Then the woman, with eyes and mouth taped, had her legs forced into a box containing rattlesnakes that bit her. Even then she did not die quickly enough.

IE IS also shown that specimens of the "black widow" spider had been ordered to help in the killing.

When the unfortunate woman showed signs of recovering from the rattlesnake bites, she was drowned in a bathtub, and now, as proof of the "power of publicity," crowds pay for admission to the Pasadena establishment of "Snaky Joe," the individual who supplied the rattlesnakes.

The snake man was, doubtless, innocent of evil intention, but in a country that specializes in murder, as this one does, it seems desirable to keep track of those that deal in rattlesnakes, black widow spiders and similar creatures.

Amputate Left Arm Of Montreal Man To Save His Life After Snake Bite

(International News Service)

MONTREAL, Que., May 6.—His left arm amputated below the elbow in an attempt to defeat rapid seepage of snake venom, Edward E. Smith, operator of a snake farm at Schleier, La., lay near death in Royal Victoria hospital today while police sought to kill or capture the angry reptile in a local apartment house.

Smith was handling the poisonous adder in an apartment when it suddenly whipped its ugly head free and struck with lightning speed, its fangs sinking into his left wrist.

The snake, meanwhile, escaped from the apartment but was believed still in the building. Unless it is located shortly, police plan to borrow an Indian mongoose, jungle nemesis of snakes, and put it on the trail of the adder.

ican colleagues' preliminary recommendations.

From Rep. Joseph D. Burke, (D) Philadelphia, one of the three Democratic members who did not sign the Horst report, came an announcement that a minority report of the Democratic committee would be presented in the house on Monday.

"The committee hadn't met in the last month," Burke asserted. "We hadn't seen half the material in the report."

He charged Horst had agreed to submit the joint report next Monday. Instead, with the Republican recommendations appended, it went in today.

Announcement of several committee hearings on administration tax bills, meanwhile, served to delay further a vote on the measures.

The bill calling for increased fees for heavy trucks and trailers will be given public hearing by the highways committee Tuesday at 2 p. m. while that imposing an additional cent tax on gasoline will come up before the ways and means committee Wednesday at 2:30, it was announced.

This would place the trucks and trailers bill in line for third reading Wednesday, and leave the gas tax measure up for final reading Thursday and others ready for Tuesday.

Says Husband Spent $300 For Stomach Medicines

A prominent local lady, surprised and delighted, tells how her husband finally got RELIEF from stomach distress. He had suffered years of misery from acid indigestion, nervous headaches and functional dyspepsia; had spent $300 on medicines; in two years, she stated, but got no real relief until he took the double-acting stomach alkalizer, called WHITE SWALLOW—the new, scientific formula of FOUR natural remedies for stomach distress. Now, she says her husband's appetite is like a school boy's and he eats ANYTHING and never complains of gas swelling, bloating or misery after meals.

Quick Relief

WHITE SWALLOW neutralizes acids in the stomach, expels gas, relieves pain, bloating, swelling and headaches. Relief comes immediately. It is not habit-forming like soda. Pleasant to take and it settles the stomach at once.

Costs a Trifle

You can have this relief for less than 1c a dose. Therefore, it would not be sensible to continue suffering. We are advertising this new, scientific remedy because it has helped nearly everyone who has taken it.

City Defendant In Damage Suit

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bailey Ask For $22,500 For Injuries To Mrs. Bailey

T. L. and Minnie Mae Bailey, his wife, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against the City of New Castle, in which Mrs. Bailey asks for $15,000 damages and Mr. Bailey for $7,500, as a result of an accident to Mrs. Bailey while walking on North Mercer street.

In the statement of claim it is alleged that it is the duty of the city of New Castle to keep the streets in a safe and passable condition. On October 26th, 1934 Mrs. Bailey was walking in front of a property at 103 North Mercer street. There was an opening leading to the cellar at this number, which was covered with boards. It is claimed that the boards had decayed, and when Mrs. Bailey stepped on one of them her foot went through and she was thrown to the sidewalk. Her right ankle was fractured and she was otherwise injured.

She was confined in the Jameson Memorial hospital for a considerable time, the hospital bill amounting to $1,404.95 and doctors and

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Revolt Widens Against A. F. L.

Lewis Widens Breach By Defying Green Over
Political Partisan-
ship

LEWIS BACKER
OF PRESIDENT

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street
By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, May 6.—President William Green's recent warning of his A. F. of L. following to eschew organized partisanship in the coming national campaign naturally is interpreted in labor circles
as the Green forces' defiance of the policy of President John L. Lewis of

the United Mine Workers. Lewis already has put his cohorts on record in favor of President Roosevelt's re-election.

Green, of course, does not argue that workmen are unentitled to their individual political preferences,
but as unionists he sticks to the old Gompers doctrine that they should not officially take sides.

Lewis' outfit already having done
so, the mine workers' leader and supporters are placed in a position
of out-and-out revolt.

ALREADY IN REVOLT

Well, Lewis, and those who agree with him that unionism must be placed on an industrial rather than a craft basis, to which the Green faction adheres, were in revolt anyway.

The split between the two groups
is widened, but it existed beforehand.

Even before the question of Rooseveltianism was raised the Lewis-ites
had challenged the Green-ites to a rank-and-file vote by the A. F. of L.
on the issue of industrial versus craft
unionization.

NOT REPRESENTATIVE?

On a delegate vote the Green-ites
have a present majority. The Lewis-ites admit it. They have to. It was tested at the last A. F. of L. convention.

The Lewis-ites assert that the delegates no longer are truly representative of the rank-and-file. With subsequent elections of delegates
they assert that the delegate majority will be theirs, but that will take time. What they would like
is an especially-called rank-and-file
ballot right now, to hasten matters.

The Green-ites, if they think they will lose, will not consent—naturally.

SHOWDOWN DELAYED

The Green-ites can delay a showdown, and are doing so.

The Lewis-ites, however, inevitably will have a chance to prove their strength ultimately.

That they will outvote the Green-ites when that time comes is problematical. They are confident that they will, but maybe not. If not,
they can secede from the A. F. of L.
and start industrial unionism on their own account.

Then what?
John L. Lewis reckons that industrial unionism will approach a membership of 40 millions. The A. F. of L.'s membership is about four millions. Lewis' prophecy is that industrial unionism will absorb the A.
F. of L.'s craft system as a glassful
of water will dissolve a pinch of salt.

Which remains to be demonstrated.

TWO PHILOSOPHIES

There is this distinction between
Green and Lewis:

Green represents the aristocracy
of labor. Lewis represents all of labor.

And this distinction, too:
Lewis is inspirational—a workers'
Messiah. Green, in his way, is a workingclass businessman.

"NON-PARTISANLY"

It is interesting to note that Major George L. Berry of the printing pressmen's union is seeking to put labor on record, non-partisanly, for President Roosevelt.

"Non-partisanly!"
Get that?

Present Program
At Humbert Hall

Most impressive was a program
presented Sunday afternoon in the King Humbert hall, Division street,
in observance of Mothers' Day, by members of the Rinascenta lodge
No. 19, Sons and Daughters of America. The attractively arranged
South Side hall was beautifully arranged for the occasion.

Featuring the event was the presentation of carnations to girls of the chapter of Youth who in turn gave them to their mothers. President
Joseph Tomasello was in charge.
Appropriate "Mother's Day" addresses were delivered by President
Tomasello and Orator Angelo Fiata.
A piano solo given by Delores De-Lorenzo pleased the large audience tremendously. Dainty refreshments were served late in the afternoon.
During a brief session, plans were made for an annual outing.
At the next meeting, Sunday afternoon, June 7, in the King Humbert hall, officers will be elected.

On Court House Hill

Expenditures of Lawrence county
during the month of April amounted to $28,631.88 from the general fund and $14,458.05 from the poor
fund according to figures submitted to the county commissioners by County Controller, Frank W. Hill.

Among the larger items from the general fund were the following:
Primary election, $4,938.91; jurors,

tion is for three months, the payments being made quarterly.

Among the larger expenditures
from the poor fund were milk and which was for the months of February and March. To the Jameson Memorial hospital $900 which was for the month of March and to the Ellwood City hospital, $206.50 for March.

For the insane whom the county
is keeping in different institutions,
the bill was $1,192.72 for one month;
provisions for the county home,
$792.25; maintenance and operation of the county home, $716.44; welfare office maintenance, $629.68 and burials for indigent people, $480.

Followers of Isaac Walton may grow old in years, but they are ever young in spirit. Among the 894 persons to whom fishing licenses have so far been issued this year by the County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland, nearly half a hundred have been issued to persons who have passed their sixtieth milestone.

The oldest persons to secure licenses so far are J. P. Rea, 81, and Mrs. Mary E. Rea, 80, of 322 Locust street. They have done more or less fishing ever since they were in their teens, and enjoy the sport as much as ever. They are planning some happy days along local streams this summer. Mr. Rea don't go much on the new fangled bait

used by some modern fishermen.
"Give me the good old angle worms
for suckers and minnows for bass,"
he says.

The next oldest fisherman to secure a license so far is Jared M. B.
Reis, 79, of East street. In the 78
year class are Mike Nord, of Bessemer; William R. Jones, of the St.
Cloud building; J. E. Ramsey, New Castle, R. D. 6. G. M. Sanford, Park Avenue, is next with 77 years to his credit.

In the 75 year class are F. L.
Cummings, of Wallace avenue, Joseph Peurer of Leasure avenue and William A. Miller, of New Castle,
R. D. 5. Two anglers, S. K. Kaufman of New Castle, R. D. 5 and 5 and Thomas Jotting of New Castle, R. D. 1 have seen 73 birthdays.
and M. S. Sewall, Beaver street and
L. L. Schefenacker, 72. The 70 year old fishermen include Chester Nims, Dixon street, James P. Coveri,
County Line street and Jos. Gatti-
wait and F. C. Connors, of Ellwood City.

Fishermen whose ages range from 60 to 69 are L. D. Nelson, Florence avenue; W. H. Gillespie, Rhodes
Place; R. W. Cunningham, North
Mercer street. Harry McConnell,
Galbraith avenue; Sherman Wimer,
Du Shane street; T. A. Preston,
East Washington street. R. A. Plen-
ing, East Washington; W. Robinson, R. D. 3; H. P. Balder, Mercer
St., W. D. Kelly, Norwood; E. C. Mc
Cracken, Court; E. A. DeLan,
Sheridan; W. J. Tackett, Cherry;
B. J. Hoover, Edison; Ira P. Fields,
Smithfield; Ralph Sankey, R. D. 5;
Albert C. Yoho, R. D. 3; C. D. Neal,
New Wilmington; Fred Dubruck,
Croton avenue; W. E. McClelland,
R. D. 4.

Harry Cameron, Mahoningtown,
R. D. 8; Frank McCracken, Euclid avenue; H. J. Sines, East Washington street; J. W. Williamson, New Wilmington; John M. Staley, Park
avenue; J. K. Hess, Garfield; James

B. Stickle, R. D., W. Grier, New Bedford; J. L. Leslie, Croton Ave., George Hanna, South Ray St., Margaret E. Hinkson, South Ray; Wylie McCaslin, Glenmore, Harry Ward,
Norwood; Hugh Rough, Ellport;
Frank Clark, Pulaski; James Swag-
er, Pulaski; Charles Parks, Rigby;
W. H. Miller, R. D. 5. S. C. Teece,
East Washington; Alex Main, city;
Dr. D. C. Lindley, Rhodes Place;
John J. Book, Neshannock avenue;
W. F. Stubbs, Madison avenue and
H. Clair Stockman, East Washington.

As the fishing season is only beginning it is likely that there will be plenty more fishermen who will be renewing their youth along Lawrence county streams during the coming summer. It is a sport in which both the older and younger generations can be evenly matched,
for what does a fish care whose hook he bites.

Humorist And Poet, Once Judge, Speaks Before Lions Club

A former municipal judge of East Liverpool, O., Tuesday demonstrated
to the full satisfaction of the Lions club members that a judge can be a judge and a poet and humorist all at one time.

Harry Breaker, for years a judge
on the municipal bench in the Ohio
city, now an attorney, was the club's guest and recited many of his poetical works. Many of his writings have been published in national magazines.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

YOUTH IS LONESOME

"Dear Sir: I am writing you in regard to a grown son who is extremely self-conscious. His baby-hood days, up to the age of four and one-half years, were spent in a very small town. We did not live near any small children, so, unfortunat-ly, he had to play alone most of the time.

"After we moved away and he had children to play with it seemed to take a long time for him to get acquainted with them, and it has been
that way all through his life.

"At 16 years of age he was graduated from high school and had the highest grades ever made in that school. After completing high school
we wanted to send him to college,
but he said, 'No, I cannot go because I cannot take part in the social activities there, just cannot meet people and talk to them.'

"He is a good worker, and gets along fairly well if he has a job that keeps him busy every minute of the day. But if part of the time he has nothing to do, and there are people around that he has to talk to, then he thinks he cannot do that kind of work.

"Last winter he seemed to get hold
of himself and put up a hard fight
... and he certainly did make a wonderful change, all through the winter and spring he was not the same person. He was friendly with everyone, enjoyed having people in our home, and talked a lot; in fact,

had almost gone to the opposite extreme in talking.

Slips Back Again.

"He was not working at that time,
but soon got a job. ... He had not been working long when I noticed that he was slipping back into the same old rut again. He does not have anything to talk about or does not care to associate with his friends
any more.

"He is always wanting to give up his work because he cannot stand
there and have people look at him
all the time. We keep insisting that he stay with it.

"Are there any good books on how to overcome self-consciousness, and where could I get them?

"Do you think there would be any chance for him to overcome this again?"

Many books designed to help the self-conscious person do him more harm than good, since they give so many types of bad symptoms and include so many pathological cases
that the reader is inclined to add more worries and self-condemnations to those he already has. Recently I wrote a hopeful little book called "Learning To Be Likable". I think you can find it in your public library. If not, write me and let me tell you where you can get it.
You might also gain some suggestions for helping him from my
"Building Personality in Children"

Since he did enjoy some successes,
try to build more on such conditions that were favorable before. I believe he will win eventually. I hope parents of young children read the foregoing thoughtfully.

Hospitalization Service For Entire Family Under Jameson Plan

Jameson's family dependent hospitalization service is precisely what its name implies—a hospitalization
service for family dependents including wife and all minor children
living at home and not gainfully
employed.

Who May Purchase The Family
Dependent Service

The service is available only to family heads who are members in good standing of the hospitalization
service provided for their use and described yesterday. This must be understood. The family head—
usually the husband and father—
must first provide his own hospitalization service membership under Jameson's $6 per year or $9 per year plan as he may prefer. Then, to provide hospitalization services for his family dependents, he must enroll as a member of Jameson's
Family Dependent Hospital Service Plan. It is worth repeating that the family dependent only for the dependent wife and minor children
living at home and not gainfully
employed. Grandparents and cousins and aunts and uncles may be dependents but they are not included in the family dependent hospitalization service and must be separately provided for as adults under a $6 or $9 contract such as the family
head himself is enrolled under. Furthermore, a dependent wife cannot enroll under a contract such as her husband enrolls under because her need of hospital bed care is known to average approximately four times
that of her husband whether her husband is gainfully engaged in work or not. On the other hand,
when a wife ceases to be dependent
by taking up regular work for money then she may enroll under a contract similar to that which protects her husband. There is a definite relation between household leasure and need of hospital care just as there is a relation between interesting gainful occupation and need of hospital care. Likewise the frequency of hospital need among women is greater than among men.
The precise relation is as yet unknown. When experience of years gives us definite facts on which to work, then we may be able to revise
our whole arrangement for prepaid
protection of hospitalization need.

Cost Of Service

The cost is $10 for each family of
dependents, regardless of number.
The contracts may be purchased individually for cash in advance or
they may be purchased by groups
of family heads at 90 cents per
month payable in advance through
the group representative to whom
the family head pays his installments on his own $6 or $9 per year
contract.

To protect the family head and
all dependents (wife and minor children living at home and not gainfully employed) it is required
that the family head shall take membership under two contracts:

1. The $6 or $9 per year contract to provide his own hospitalization up to 35 days fully paid and half rates thereafter.

2. The $10 family dependent plan to provide unlimited hospital bed care for his own family dependents at half bed rates—all extra
charge services being free and bed
accommodations to be selected or approved by the family head.

Family dependents are thus hospitalized for as little as $1.25 per day for a child and at most, $3.00
per day for an adult in the best private room in the hospital. There are no extra charges to family dependent patients except expensive
serums rarely used. Doctor bills and special nurse hire are not included in any Jameson hospitalization service.

What The Family Dependent Plan Provides

The family dependents protected
under the plan are entitled to unlimited hospital bed care during one year as ordered by their own personal private doctors without regard to number of dependents per family or number hospitalized or duration of hospitalization.

The bed accommodations shall be those selected by the patient and approved by the family head and for these bed accommodations a charge of 50 per cent (half) of the posted rates will be made to the responsible family head. No charges shall be made, however, for such services as X-ray, operating room,
anesthetic, laboratory, casts, splints,
fracture appliances and oxygen tent
—services for which normal charges
average $21 per patient. The services include everything that Jameson gives to any of its private patients. Practically, the service provides all hospital bed care needs of all protected family dependents at about one-third the present cost.

What The Service Does Not Provide

The service does not provide hospital bed care for mental diseases
and pulmonary tuberculosis, nor for quarantinable contagions, erysipelas,
acute venereal infections and alcoholism. It does not apply to rest-cures, walking patients, purely diagnostic studies, neurasthenia and semi-invalidism. It is not intended for and does not apply to treatment
of chronic incurable diseases such as diabetes, chronic heart disease,
chronic Bright's disease, asthma and the like. The service is to provide hospital bed care needs for bed

treatment of unexpected and unpredictable sickness and injury.

The service does not apply to elected surgical cases until the patient has been enrolled for at least 90 days. Removal of tonsils is elected by the patient or the patient's parents as a procedure to be carried out at some convenient time.
The restriction is imposed to protect hospitalization funds from exploitation by newcomers seeking to avoid a hospital bill for an operation
needed and perhaps long deferred.
Naturally, after the Jameson service
is well established this restriction
will cause no inconvenience and meantime, during the first 90 days,
the service does apply to all acute disorders for which the patient cannot elect his time of treatment.

Cost Of Service

The cost is $10 for each family of
dependents, regardless of number.
The contracts may be purchased individually for cash in advance or
they may be purchased by groups
of family heads at 90 cents per
month payable in advance through
the group representative to whom
the family head pays his install-
ments on his own $6 or $9 per year
contract.

To protect the family head and

pendents at half bed rates—all extra

pendent patients except expensive

Mrs. Calvin Clark Honored Last Night

Mrs. Calvin Clark, president of the Shenango Township P. T. A., who is leaving in July to make her home in Arizona, was given a surprise ovation in her honor at the school Monday night.

The executives of the P. T. A. had invited all the committee members
of the organization to participate in the party. A lovely lunch had been arranged and a program was presented, in charge of Mrs. William Geiger.

Remarks were offered by I. A.
Lytle, by Glenn Johnston, principal of the school, and Mrs. Mack Wilkes.
Mrs. August Arnold presented Mrs.
Clark with a lovely table cover as a gift from the committee. A regular meeting with installation of new officers will take place next Monday night, it was announced.

Dog Catcher Has Busy Time

There are 62 less dogs in the city
now than there were on April 10,
according to Jack Young, dog catcher, who reported today that during April he caught 85 dogs, 50 of which were killed. Thirty-five were returned to owners after Young learned from license tags that they were desired by their owners. He warned the owners to keep the dogs tied. So far this month he has killed 12 dogs
because they had no license tags.

TO ASK STATE DEPARTMENT TO EXPLAIN

Legation Attack Cause Of Query

Congresswoman Desires To Know Why U. S. Guard, Was Not Provided

ASSERTS WARNING HAD BEEN PROVIDED

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 6.—A resolution demanding an explanation by the state department for failure to protect the American legation at Addis Ababa during riots which preceded Italian occupation was to be introduced in the house today by Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R) of Massachusetts. She asserted the department should have provided an American guard rather than forcing Americans to accept protection from the British.

Practically Defenseless—“Newspaper accounts of the rioting there and the cables of Minister Engert indicate that the legation was practically defenseless and virtually unarmed,” said Mrs. Rogers. “A few rifles, shotguns and revolvers were the only weapons at the legation. A sub-machine gun was later procured through the good offices of an Abyssinian policeman.”

“Americans in the legation as well as their native employees, men and women both, were in the gravest of peril and two of the latter were wounded. Grateful as we are to the British for coming to the rescue of our citizens and those whom we employed, it still seems to me that our government should have supplied protection.”

“The rioting had been predicted for sometime and it seems only reasonable to expect that the state department should have taken precautions to guard American lives and property.”

MAN HUNTING SNAKES ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

SHARON, Pa., May 6.—Carl C. Parkhurst, 51, of Hartford, O., near here, is dead at his home today as the result of the accidental discharge of his rifle while he was hunting vermin on his farm.

His body, with a bullet wound in the head, was found by his sons, Harold and Gordon, in a shallow creek, into which he had fallen after the rifle was discharged. Dr. John C. Henshaw of Trumbull county, O., investigated. He said his investigation indicated that Parkhurst was shot when he tripped and fell over a log on the bank of the creek while looking for water snakes.

My New York By James Aswell
NEW YORK, May 6.—Randomizing: I passed Clarence Bunting Kelland's huge manor house out Port Washington way the other night and it was lit up like a Christmas tree. . . . A tinkle of merry voices drifted out on the clear spring night and it occurred to me that poverty is not the invariable lot of scriveners. . . . A drop-in at the home of Walter Hoban, the cartoonist, who regaled with ominous anecdotes about Long Island's "candle burglar," who has been making off with the good burghers' silverware and jewelry for five or six years running, to the dismay of the police. . . . The thief appears gifted with a whimsical and unbusinesslike fancy. . . . He will pilfer some knick-knack worth a few cents in preference to a valuable fable which fails to take his eye. . . . Fedora hats are a particular weakness; he has stolen dozens. . . . Hoban told of a householder who was awakened late one night by footsteps in his bedroom. . . . He lay still and watched the sinister candle burglar tiptoe about the room. . . . Finally he remarked casually: "How're you doing? Remember, if you find anything of value we're in fifty-fifty." The thief said "Sh-h-h!" and tiptoed to the window and out. . . . Candle wax on carpets is the invariable mark of this marauder, but the Long Island Sherlocks have no other clue. . . .

The land that will harbor the 1939 World's Fair is being leveled and graded near Forest Hills. . . . Sketches are even now being prepared of the eye-popping wonders in prospect. . . . And my Gee Whizz Men insist that the prevailing decor will be modernistic. Like many of the buildings in the Chicago hoopla. . . . The Fair will serve at least one extremely meritorious purpose: transportation facilities between Manhattan and Queens will be much improved, what with the huge Tri-Boro bridge spanning the river farther uptown and another subway being dug to facilitate the travels of harried commuters. . . .

Carmela Ponselle (Rosa's sis) who is by way of being a Grade A operatic warbler herself, reveals an unusual request for an autograph, full of human pathos, and so I pass it on. . . . A young man wrote enclosing a paper napkin bearing the imprint of one of the well-known low-price cafeterias. . . . He asked her to place her squiggle on the napkin, explaining: "I take my girl to eat in this cafeteria because I can't afford the more expensive restaurants. If you signed it I could tell her I saw you there one day and her opinion of the place would be improved. She wouldn't feel badly about eating there so much."

Carmela obliged. . . . But speaking of opera folk, Arturo Toscanini, the famed conductor, left New York in a blaze of temperamental fireworks such as only his profession could produce. . . . He was so distressed by the flare of a photograph's flashlight at his farewell performance that he snaked in the wings and refused to take another bow. . . . Then, when he sailed on the Champlain a couple of days later, he walked up the gangplank in a heavy overcoat on one of the hottest days so far this year, stationing guards to keep the photographers and newshawks back from his stateroom door—guards and, of all things, a press-agent! These musicians are certainly cards! . . .

Some time back I ran a column about check-room cuties and cigarette girls in the various cut-up saloons of the town. . . . I omitted the most engaging trio of all: Irene La Bonte, Lillian Karkuff and Irene Barish, of the Rockefeller Center Rainbow Room. They are incorporated under the name of Bonkabar, a neat wedding of their last names, and each of the three put up capital to float the venture. . . . They were the first gals in town to own a cigarette concession in a night club. . . . At the moment they are engaged in writing their joint memoirs.

Fiendish Slayer Is Being Hunted

Maine Officials Hope To Apprehend Moron Who Has Killed Two
Small Girls

(International News Service)
WATERVILLE, Me., May 6.—Spurred by public indignation over the fiendish strangle-murders of two children in seven months, police searched for a man seen with seven year old Mary Proulx before she vanished Sunday. Her bound and gagged body was found in a clump of bushes by a schoolboy, member of a large searching posse yesterday.

Two men were under arrest for questioning as suspects, and a search was launched for four others. "Shock View" Authorities said all suspects picked up would be paraded separately through a brilliantly lighted undertaking parlor for a "shock view" of the murdered girl, hoping the guilty man, if among them, would "break." Police were convinced the murder of Mary Proulx was linked to the similar slaying of Annie Knights, 12, in neighboring Fairfield last October 7. Her body was discovered trussed to a tree stump. Many circumstances in both slayings were identical.

Karpis' Companion Is Given Hearing

Alleged Participant In Garrettsville Mail Robbery Is Arraigned In New Orleans

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS, May 6.—Fred Hunter, companion of Alvin Karpis, America's erstwhile public enemy No. 1, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Reginald Carter, Jr., today.

Hunter, who was arrested last week when G-men under J. Edgar Hoover apprehended Karpis, was wanted for a $46,000 mail robbery in Garrettsville, O. Though postal inspectors had wanted Hunter for participation in the Ohio postal robbery, Hunter was arraigned today on charges of harboring and wilfully concealing Alvin Karpis.

Hunter, cringing and meek, was barely able to speak in more than a whisper. Waiving a hearing, Hunter was turned over to the federal marshal.

The bond was fixed at $200,000.

HE COULDN'T STEAL ANY PEACOCK EGGS

(International News Service)
LIBERTY, Mo.—A slander suit involving an allegedly false accusation that a man stole some peacock eggs was dismissed here when the defense lawyer pointed out it was biologically inaccurate and physically impossible for a peacock to lay eggs.

Therefore, it would be impossible for the plaintiff to do what the defendant was charged with having accused him of doing—stealing peacock eggs.

"It's like putting skirts on a man," the defense attorney said.

SOUGHT A THIEF, FOUND A SKUNK

(International News Service)
ROCKAWAY, Ore.—An all-night vigil by Sydney Alexander resulted in the discovery of a milk-and-food thief who had been pestering this section for some time. The culprit's greatest depredations concerned milk, bottles of which disappeared between the time of delivery and the following morning.

Deciding to capture the thief, Alexander settled himself for an all-night wait. Hearing a noise on his front porch, he snapped on the light, grabbed his gun and threw open the door. He caught the thief in the act of drinking a bottle of milk. It was a large skunk. Alexander did not try to recover his milk.

Attorney Rossi Is Acquitted Of Drunken Driving

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 6.—Joseph A. Rossi, a deputy attorney general, was acquitted by a grand jury today on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

The jury which heard many prominent Democratic and Republican political leaders testify concerning Rossi's reputation for the defense, at first returned a verdict ordering the defendant to share the costs with the county. Judge James H. Gray refused such a verdict and the jury again retired and returned a verdict putting all the costs on the county.

Rossi collided with a pole last January 18, suffering a brain concussion, according to the defense testimony.

Mercer County Acclaims District Orchestra; Beaver County To Be Visited

Public acclaim has been meeting the appearance of the WPA orchestra which has presented several concerts in Mercer county in the past ten days. Tremendous crowds have turned out for the concerts in Farrell, Grove City and other places visited, and the newspaper comment has been commendatory.

Under the direction of Ben Shulansky and Harry Hammond the orchestra has reached a high state of perfection and is now a finished musical organization. Beaver county will get several concerts in the next two weeks and other points in Mercer county that have not heard the orchestra will be visited.

The orchestra contains musicians from all four of the counties in district 14, and the programs presented are cosmopolitan enough to entertain any group.
